The first register of the parish is entitled " Kirke Bog for Den Norske Lutherske Meninghed ved Rock Prarier, Rock County, Wisconsin Territory, North America. The first part of Book I is an Index in which all church members are recorded alphabetically by given name as they entered the church either through proof of previous Lutheran church membership, by confirmation, or as members of the family of an accepted member. The Index is hand-written in a beautiful, small script. The Index ends in 1856 and has a total of 1101 names of individuals and CLVIII families.

Levor was accepted on 22 Dec 1845 as Member # 71, Family # XVI. Family members listed under his name were: Guro Christiansdatter, Christian (Son), Guri (Datter), Ingeborg (Datter), Knud (Son). Herbrand & Aase are not listed with the family, probably because they were part of the beginning Confirmation class.

Death & Burial: Rock Co. Vital Records Vol. 1 pg 428 #7. Luther Valley Luther Valley Church Records Book I No. 7 Doc G. Grubolt Dod vie Begravne No. 7. 26 Sept 1846. This means he was the 7th burial & was buried in Plot #7. The first 6 plots were occupied by very small children & infants who had died within the same week.

Probate: Official Index at Rock Co. Courthouse. Old records housed at Rock Co. Historical Society. File # 137: Herbrandsen, Lavora---file folder was empty. no indication of what might have been in it.
File # 12066 Court Record Z Page 52. Herbrandsen, Levor. Quit Claim Deed 20 Jan 1855 (Deed Book Z, p 265) & Warranty Deed 8 Mar 1860 (Deed Book 45, p 452) documents sale of land jointly held by Levor's widow and six children to his son Herbrand Levorsen. Copies in file, entire brief recorded in Herbrand Leverson FGR #144.

Levor died intestate. Working assumption is his death was by an accident. The brutal work of clearing and preparing and farming that land makes it easy to imagine the scenario by which he might have met his untimely end.

LEVERSON/LANDE NOTE

19 June 1991: Dane County, Wisconsin, is rich, gently rolling farm country -- not nearly as hilly as Walworth and Rock Counties, further south. The soil here seems even more fertile: the corn today is already thigh-high (50 years ago farmers predicted a good crop if the corn was "knee-high by the 4th of July.") Koshkonong Creek courses south through the eastern end of Dane County, passing through the pleasant little villages of Cambridge and Rockdale. This prairie was the site of the Koshkonong Settlement, one of the first and most populous areas of Norwegian settlement. It was so large that it supported two churches, the East and West Koshkonong parishes -- both Lutheran, of course.

We found the East Koshkonong churches late on a early summer afternoon. They stand on a rise -- steep for this part of the country -- on East Church Road, just west of its intersection with Hillside Road. I say churches because there are two sturdy, late 19th century structures separated only a peaceful, tree-shaded cemetery. A violent disagreement over predestination split the parish in twain, and each maintained an entirely separate existance (the church higher on the hill was the "First East Koshkonong Lutheran Church; the lower the "East Koshkonong Lutheran Church") until the congregations finally decided to join again in 1961!

We found the assistant pastor, the Rev. Mr. Christianson, a white-shocked gentleman in his late 60s, and he showed us some of the relics of the early days. Most striking was the altar on which the founding pastor celebrated his first service here in 1844. It is half of a roughly split log about 3 feet long, standing about 2 feet high on 4 crude wooden legs.

NOTES

I: Norge. Skatakammerkollegiet. Manntall 1664-1666.

CONTENTS

This census was taken by the local civil authorities. It lists the names of the farms, farmowners (including widows), sons of farm owners, male farm hands, cottagers and sons of cottagers and the age of each person. The clerical authorities took a census during this same time period. Both censuses should be used as they supplement each other. The clerical census is more complete.
